

COMPLAINTS CHANNEL

At CATHODIC PROTECTION INTERNATIONAL PERU E.I.R.L., we have distinguished ourselves as an entity whose philosophy, values, and principles have been guided by the highest ethical standards. These standards have been essential in supporting the growth, consolidation, and projection of both the organization and its individuals. As part of the oversight of these standards, we maintain a commitment to investigate, rectify, and, when necessary, sanction any conduct, actions, or circumstances that violate and/or transgress the principles and values established in our Code of Ethics. The implementation of this code is mandatory for all its subsidiaries and their respective employees, executives, directors, and distributors. It is also of great importance that our shareholders, suppliers, business partners, or anyone associated with the company embrace and adopt these principles and values within the scope of our respective operations. To report situations that represent an immediate threat to life or property requiring urgent assistance, please contact us at +51-1-4221936.